

As a professional truck driver averaging 140,000 miles per year, the XM radio service providing traffic and weather is not only a convenience, but is a safety issue as well. It allows me to pick the best routes and times to avoid congestion, and hence pollution.

Local broadcasters are just trying in vain to prevent a fair competition of a new technology. Don't let them be successful.